Wild Wonders is

- ▶ A 5-acre home to over 120 animal ambassadors
- ▶ Where feathered, furry, scaled, four-legged, two-legged, and no-legged creature teachers educate and excite thousands of adults and children each year
- ▶ An internationally recognized organization in conservation education
- ▶ A forever home to confiscated, rescued, surrendered, and non-releasable animals
- ▶ Where you can see animals from every continent except Antarctica
- ▶ Accredited by the Zoological Association of America

Founder and Executive Director

Jackie Navarro started Wild Wonders in 1991. Her personal mission is to excite the public and foster a desire to preserve and learn about wildlife and the important role they play in the planet we share. To that end, she has grown Wild Wonders into an internationally recognized conservation education center.

She has appeared with many well known celebrities in the animal world (e.g. Jack Hanna, Jeff Corwin, Steve Irwin), and shared the animal ambassadors with hundreds of thousands of people through appearances on programs such as Ellen, Oprah, The Tonight Show, and Animal Planet.

Jackie has a degree in Biology from Cal Poly, has been to 6 of the 7 continents, and has been leading conservation focused wildlife tours for over 14 years.

Managing Director

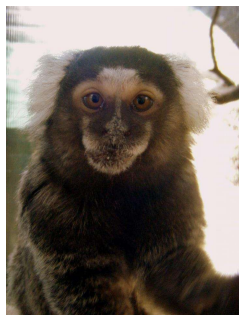

Kimberly Wright has been at Wild Wonders for over 14 years. With her background of working in animal parks and aquariums, her wide range of experience in animal training, veterinary procedures, behavioral enrichment, husbandry, and education has been a key role in helping to build Wild Wonders into the facility it is today.

Before Wild Wonders Was Their Forever Home

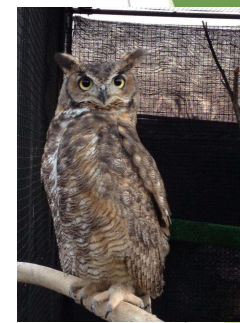

Confiscated

Jackson, a marmoset, was an illegal pet that kept escaping. On his last escape, animal control slated him for euthanasia. Since Wild Wonders had previously had a marmoset, we were permitted to take him in.

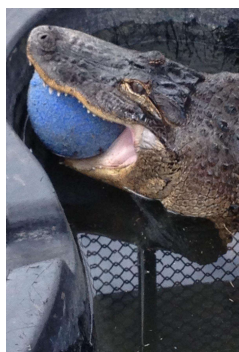

Non-releasable

Archie, a Great Horned Owl, either fell or was pushed out of his nest. At the end of his rehabilitation, he was imprinted on humans and deemed non-releasable.

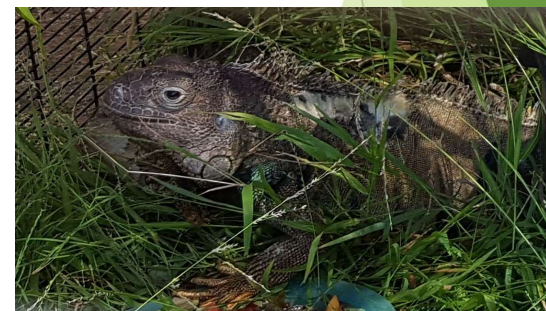

Owner surrendered

Imagine finding out your son had ordered an alligator over the internet! A package containing Cajun was opened by a very surprised parent. Since alligators can grow to over 8 feet long, Cajun moved to Wild Wonders and joined our other alligator residents.

Rescued

Cezar, a green iguana, was found in a tree with burns over most of his body. It took over a year for him to fully heal.

- ▶ Need to organize a field trip for lots of parents and students? Our recommendations:
 - ▶ Groups of 50 can be broken into two smaller groups of 25, and the tours can be done in parallel.
 - ▶ Groups of 100 can be accommodated with 2 groups of 50, with the second group beginning 90 minutes after the first group. For example, the first group of 50 could start at 9:00, and the second group of 50 could start at 10:30.
- ▶ Approximately 60 minutes

Amazing experience! Our tour guide was very informative and made for a fun and educational experience. We were able to see many animals up close and personal. Most of which we had never heard of before. We were blown away at how nice the complex is and how well things are run.
