

PRESS RELEASE – Wild Wonders hosts Military Appreciation Month
Bonsall, CA
November 1, 2017

In honor of Veteran’s Day on November 11, Wild Wonders is offering discounted rates for private tours of their wild animal sanctuary housing over 120 animal ambassadors. A staff member will escort guests throughout the 10 acre site, where they will get acquainted with animals from all over the world. Among the many animals, guests will meet cheetahs and servals from Africa, kinkajous and parrots from the rain forest, bearcats (the animal holding the flag in the photo) and pythons from Asia, wallabies, blue-tongued skinks, and kookaburras from Australia, and porcupines, arctic foxes and alligators from here in North America.

Private tours usually start at $130, but for active duty and retired military personnel throughout the month of November, Wild Wonders is offering a tour for a family of four for $99. The one hour, personalized tour has consistently received five star ratings, and guests will be treated to several close interactions with the ambassadors. The staff adjusts each presentation to the age of the audience, which guarantees that the entire group will have a memorable and informative experience.

More information about the tour and a reservation form can be found on the Wild Wonders website:
